CadwellCare: What It Means For You

CadwellCare

After care service like no other

Since 2003 Cadwell has been delivering quality fitout and refurbishment projects for the healthcare, education and commercial sectors.

We specifically tailor our services to each project and client. Becoming actively involved with your team and requirements has allowed us to successfully build projects and relationships.

With an impressive, award-winning portfolio in excess of over 700 projects nationally, Cadwell continues to impress with a refined team of industry professionals and personal service that clients value.

Introducing CadwellCare

Cadwell Care: We see our client's as lifelong business partners. Aligning with our quality guarantee, and to ensure total client satisfaction, we provide post construction follow ups within a 24 hour timeframe.

While the standard warranty for building works is 12 month, along with 10 years for workstations and equipment and 5 years for seating, we remain committed to assist with any building issues for the lifetime of your project.

This ensures that you as a client have a single point of contact for any building related issues and in-turn peace of mind.

After care service like no other

How It Works For You

With any project we strive to complete and handover the project defect free. Occasionally there are defects whether they are evident when handing over the project or they may appear or occur over a longer period of time.

When this happens we pride ourselves on being pro-active and working with all stakeholders to:

- Identify the problem
- Provide a solution
- Follow up & rectify
- Review - to ensure improvement

CadwellCare Manager

Our CadwellCare Manager, Tim Watts, is at the forefront of our after-care service giving you a clear point of contact for anything you might need over the lifetime of your project.

Tim has been with Cadwell for over five years, meaning he knows our award-winning processes like the back of his hand. Tim's incredible 30 years of industry experience doesn't go unnoticed as he is highly regarded by clients on every project he's apart of.
